Failure To Observe Treaty Obligations FOREIGN POLICY

REVIEWED Nonking, Apr. 14. The Foreign Minister, Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, blamed the Soviet Union's "failure to observe treatyobligations" for the unsatisfactory state of Sino-Soviet relations when he made a comprohensive review of Chinese foreign policy before a crowded National Assembly this morning.

Apart from demanding Russia fulfil her obligations, Dr. Wang said that the Chinese Government should send substantial military reinforcements into Manchuria as means of forcing.

Winston Churchill's Memoirs

At last you can read in Winston Churchill's Memoirs the complete details of the greatest catastrophe known. Here is more than one of the important historical documents of modern times. Here is great writing, with all the imagery, the earthiness, the sharp wit that we associate with Winston Churchill. No fiction could be so enthrolling. The great ones of the earth stride through these memoirs. You watch the destruction of great nations. You can follow the successive steps that led to war. We urge you to read these Memoirs. For their own value, because they are extraordinary. And because every individual should know the facts they reveal, and hear the warning they give in order to judge clearly the events of tomorrow.

This announcement of Gov-levelting the recommendations of ernment policy, was made a Committee, whose terms of public when the Colonial Secretary (the Hon. Mr. D. M. Mac-Dougall, C.M.G.) replied to questions put by the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo in Legislative Council yesterday. Mr. Lo asked whether Crown Rent is being collected on war-

damaged properties, whether Government had decided waive the performance of the usual covenant to repair maintain such properties in view of hardships suffered by owners an a result of the war, and if Government's answer to the second question is in the negative whether the question of waiver is within the terms of reference of the Committee set up to make recommendations on War-Damaged

Government's answer to the first question was in the affirma- | Ordinance 1948, which amends live, and to the second in the the principal Ordinance o negative: and in amplification 1887 thereof the Colonial Secretary Governor to order a settled

Alleged Lack Of Cooperation With U.N.

Necessary

Lake Success, Apr. 13. The United Nations Palestine Commission, reporting to the General Assembly today, criticised Britain for alleged lack of cooperation and declared that unless urgent measures were taken imediately Palestino would be thrown into chaos.

The report criticised the British authorities on these main grounds:

Refusing to let the Commission go to Palestine earlier than May 1.

Refusing to have a progressive transfer of authority. Making it impossible for the Commission to organise Arab and Jewish militias in advance. Taking financial and economic steps without consulting the Commission.
